Lynne Lerner's August, 2011 Featured Villa in Crete

RES Senior Vice-President, Lynne Lerner, is expanding her services to include exclusive international luxury vacation properties. She will be featuring exclusive rental properties around the world that offer wonderful amenities and privacy.

"Having worked together and understanding my clients' lifestyles and requirements, it is a logical extension to provide this service to them," Lynne said. "Many of these properties come from clients, business and social relationships." Lerner continued, "My core business will remain New York City residential properties, however, when my clients are considering vacation accommodations, I can assist them in making those arrangements."

For August, Lynne is featuring a stunning villa in Crete on the Elounda Sea.
